Course Overview

This comprehensive training program is designed for operatives, supervisors, and newcomers to the power industry looking to gain access to sites.

SHEA Power course focuses on health, safety, and environmental best practices specific to the power sector, aiming to elevate industry standards and promote safer working environments.

The SHEA Power Safety Passport is a valuable certification for professionals working in safety-critical environments. Affiliated with the CSCS scheme, the card provides recognised proof of health and safety training and grants operational site access across a range of power, construction, and utility industry sites in the UK.
